FROM VIRGINIA.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT NEWS.

LYNCHBURG, April 13.

A special dispatch to the Republican, dated Salem, 13th inst., says:

Jenkins' expedition with a small portion of his command, in Western Virginia, have been completely successful.

The elections and spring courts of the bogus government, in all the counties West of the Kanawha River, were broken up, our troops driving the enemy, who sustained heavy loss, into his fortifications at Hurricane bridge.

Our troops proceeded thence to the Kanawha River where they captured two Government steamboats which were passing.

At night our forces embarked on Flat Boats and floated down the Kanawha, attacking and capturing Point Pleasant.

The next morning our troops killed and captured numbers of the enemy, took 150 horses and destroyed a large amount of stores.

The enemy made a most desperate effort to cut off Jenkins' retreat from the Ohio River, but they were eluded and the command extricated in safety.

FROM TULLAHOMA.

TULLAHOMA, April 13.

Information was received here to-day stating that Wheeler captured two trains, one between Louisville and Nashville, and the other between Nashville and Murfreesboro, with a large number of men and officers. He destroyed the trains. All is quiet elsewhere.

FROM CHATTANOOGA.

CHATTANOOGA, April 13.

In the fight at Franklin, Van Dorn attacked the enemy with seven thousand cavalry and Freeman's battery. The Federals retreated, but advanced again with large reinforcements; a bloody fight ensued, in which Freeman's battery was captured and Freeman killed. Our loss is heavy. We retreated from the place after six hours hard fighting.

Later accounts represent the recapture of our artillery after the fall of Freeman. We took no prisoners.

FROM MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, April 13.

GRENADA, April 12.—Large reinforcements of commissary and quartermasters stores have arrived, by the new plan, which is to send the force of each three railroads south of Grantts army, which joins Rosencrantz's, by water.

The Tennessee river is falling rapidly.

HERNANDO, April 11.—Elliotts Marine Brigade has certainly gone to Memphis.

NORTHERN NEWS.

JACKSON, April 13.

A special dispatch to the Appeal reports that twenty thousand Federals passed up Vicksburg on the 10th to reinforce Rosencrantz.

More vessels from the Confederacy have arrived safely at Bermuda, the blockade being inefficient.

A war with England is feared.

An expedition composed of the 6th Iowa Regiment has been started for Missouri.

The Mississippi is rising. It has gained three inches a day at Memphis.

The Arkansas is over the banks.

WASHINGTON, April 5.

Negro volunteering has been abandoned and the draft has been adopted.

The boats just arrived from the Moon Pass are in a terrible condition.

Lincoln has been advised that five powerful rams are building in England for the Confederates.

FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, April 14.

All quiet to-night.

The enemy occupies Cole's Island, Keawah Island and Seabrooks Island in considerable force, protected by a few gunboats. All his transports have left this vicinity.

More of Mosby's Raid—Arrest of Persons in Fairfax.

Mosby's men were dismounted, and received our cavalry with a fire from behind fences, which stampeded some of the raw soldiers. The fight soon became desperate. Mosby threatened his men with death if they flinched, and himself wounded Captain Flint five times with his revolver, killing him. Lieut. Grout, of the Vermont cavalry, and seven men were also killed. Our loss was about sixty killed, wounded and prisoners.

Mosby was in the house upon the plantation when he was surprised; but we learn that he rallied his men with lightning-like celerity, and when our squadron broke he pursued and hacked them severely. The guerrilla chief received a severe sabre cut on the forehead.

We learn that the Vermont carbine companies delivered their fire upon the enemy with good effect, and then opened to the right and left to allow the sabre companies charge, but they did not come up to the work.

The bodies of Capt. Flint and Lieut. Grout were embalmed to-day.

The following prisoners arrested on Wednesday, at Fairfax, by order of Gen. Stahl, were brought in on Wednesday.—They were charged with being accessories to the capture of General Stoughten and other officers at the time of Mosby's raid upon that place. They are all wealthy farmers, and reside in the neighborhood of the Court House. Upon being examined by Col. Baker the question was asked them if they had taken part in the raid. This they declined to answer, avowing themselves rebels "dyed in the wool." Refusing to take the oath of allegiance, they were committed to the usual receptacle for fellows of that ilk—the old Capitol prison:

David P. Conrad, James Keys, Charles Whaley, James H. Whaley, J. L. Cross, John W. Shafer, James T. Padgett, E. Wilson, R. W. Power, R. W. Lewis, Samuel Mateer, Albert Powell and Chas. Toller.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.

THE above reward will be paid for the delivery at the Jail in Charlotte, of a free negro, known as

JOHN GRICE,

Who is about 5 feet 11 inches high; stoops when walking; has straight hair, and is a dark mulatto. He has a wife living on the plantation of Mr. Robert McGee, on the Catawba river, Mecklenburg county.

The threats against the white population, and burglaries committed by this negro are sufficient to outlaw him. KOOPMAN & PHELPS.

ROBT. DAVIDSON,

BY THE GOVERNOR OF NOR CAROLINA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, it has become apparent to me and to all who feel interested in the welfare of the State, and who have any feeling of humanity for suffering among their fellow men, from the cries which reach us from the poor in all sections of the land, that starvation will be the fate of many of our heretofore favored people, unless the GRIPE OF SPECULATION in the NECESSARIES OF LIFE can be arrested; and whereas, it is my bounden duty to protect the citizens of the State, of which I have the honor to be Chief Magistrate, against the evils consequent upon this crime, to the utmost of my ability:

Now, therefore, I, ZEBULON B. VANCE, Governor of North Carolina, do, by and with the advice and consent of the Council of State, issue this Proclamation forbidding all persons for the space of thirty days from the date hereof, from exporting any of the following articles beyond the limits of the State, to wit: any Salt, Bacon, Pork, Beef, Corn, Meal, Flour, Wheat, Potatoes, Shoes, Leather, Hides, Cotton, Cloth, and Yarn, and Woolen Cloth.

From this prohibition the following persons are to be exempted: All Quartermasters and Commissary Agents of the Confederate Government, and of any State of the Confederacy, exhibiting proper evidence of their official character. Also, all Agents of any county, district, town or corporation, of other States who shall exhibit satisfactory proof of their agency for the purchase of such articles for such county, district, town or corporation, for public uses or for distribution at cost and transportation, and not for resale or profit. Also, all persons, whether residents or non-residents of the State, who may purchase any of the said articles for their private use, of which before the articles are removed, their oath, before a Justice of the Peace, may be taken as evidence. The exception is to extend to Salt made by non-residents on the sea coast and in their own works, and to cargoes entering a port of this State from abroad.

Any of the said articles that may be stopped in transitu from our borders are to be confiscated to the use of the State. The Colonels of Militia throughout the State are enjoined to see that this Proclamation is enforced.

I earnestly appeal to all good citizens to sustain and aid me in carrying out the object this Proclamation is designed, as far as possible, to effect.

SEAL } In witness whereof, Zebulon B. Vance, Governor, Captain General and Commander-in-Chief, hath signed these presents and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed.

Done at our city of Raleigh, this 18th day of April, A. D., 1863, and in the year of our Independence the 87th.

By the Governor, Z. B. VANCE.

Great care is taken that nothing shall appear in its columns which should be excluded from the family circle.

The political creed of the MERCURY is in the principles of the Democratic Party as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799—the Sovereignty of the States, strict construction of the Federal Constitution, the General Government, the agent of the States, free trade, and no consolidation. Important Information.

[From the Raleigh Standard.]

We are indebted to Gov. Vance for the following correspondence between Hon. N. H. Smith and Commissioner Ould, which contains important information for some of our citizens:—

RICHMOND, March 30, 1863.

Hon. R. Ould, Commissioner, &c.:

DEAR SIR—Many citizens of parts of my district beyond the lines of our army who have not been in the military service of the Confederate States Government have at different times been arrested by the enemy.

They have been discharged from imprisonment only on condition of their taking the oath of neutrality. This oath binds such as take it, not to commit any act of hostility to the United States, nor to aid their enemies so long as the U. S. forces occupy the particular locality where the party is resident. In some instances the obligation has been imposed to the extent that the person so arrested and held, will commit no hostile act nor aid the enemies of the United States during the pending war.

May I ask whether the recent agreement between yourself and commissioner Ludlow, discharges these obligations when entered into?

Most respectfully,
W. N. H. SMITH.

RICHMOND, April 1st, 1863.

All citizens heretofore arrested by Federal authority, and released upon parole, whether that parole was to return to Federal lines or to procure the release of any other person, or for any other purpose, or with any sort of obligation, have been declared by the express agreement of the Federal Agent of Exchange released from said parole or any obligation named therein.

RO. OULD,
Agent of Exchange.

The Finale of the Fight for the Harbor.

Proudly this thirteenth day of April, the second anniversary of the surrender of Fort Sumter, dawns upon the City of Charleston. The boasted iron-fleet, which was in three hours to have reduced our defences and pulverised the walls of Fort Sumter, battered and discomfited by our skilled artillerists, after tarrying five days within our bar, probably to repair damages and get orders from Washington, has gone. Abiit, excessit, evasit, erupit!

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock the Monitors crossed the bar—three of them steaming, the other three towed by wooden vessels. Most of them passed southward, and were soon lost to the view. It is likely that they have gone to Port Royal, whither one of their number, worse injured probably, than the rest, had preceded them four days ago. The Ironsides Frigate was also towed beyond the bar, and at dark yesterday had resumed the position she lately occupied as the flagship of the blockading squadron. It is, stated, however, by observers that her steam pump has been kept steadily in motion, that her waterline has been raised by the removal of a portion, at least, of her armament, and that she has been careened, evidently undergoing repairs on one side.

From the Stono River we also get intelligence that twenty-four of the transports recently anchored in that stream, have disappeared—whether to remove troops, or only to bring more to Folly Island, with a view to the capture of Morris Island, we know not. But, at any rate, the progress of the great Yankee movement towards Charleston, both by land and sea, has been suddenly stayed in the first and most dreaded advance, and our people, while they may not rejoice in the expectation that their final ordeal is passed, can at least enjoy a breathing spell from anxiety concerning the water approach, while every exertion should be given towards the security of Charleston otherwise.

In announcing to the public this almost ludicrous, hardly expected and most gratifying conclusion of the vaunted attack of the steel-plated Yankee armada, crippled, defeated and driven back in an engagement of not two hours and a half with admirably served batteries, we cannot forbear to invoke, as a proper spirit of profound thankfulness to the Giver of Victories, Him for a continuance of the providential mercies which, beginning with the reduction of Sumter two years ago, have signally marked the progress of operations in this quarter.—Charleston Mercury, 14th inst.

We have heard it related that some months ago, when the Yankee attack was first expected at Charleston, Mr. Memminger, who has his home in that city, sent word to Gen. Beauregard to let his house go if necessary, but he should expect him to defend the lot! We doubt not that this was but a terse expression of the general sentiment of the citizens. Let the city be laid in ruins if incident to its defence; but save the site!

DISCHARGED.—The New York Court of appeals has ordered the discharge of Mary Harteung, the beautiful murderess of her husband at Albany, New York, a few years since.

CHARLOTTE.

Thursday Morning, April 16, '63.

Personal.

It will be seen on reference to a communication in another column, that some of the gentlemen composing the County Court of Mecklenburg, have been displeased with publications in the BULLETIN in reference to the Randalsburg Riflemen, a volunteer corps now in the service of our country, who complained of injustice having been done them by the County, &c.; and because a few of our fellow-citizens agreed to pay the demand if the debt was not cancelled by the County.

It seems that, from what we have learned, as we were not present to witness the ebullition of those sapient dignitaries, that the BULLETIN received a full share of their denunciation, but we hope our pet will survive the assaults of the amiable, influential and learned dispenser of Law. At any rate, we intend, so far as those gentlemen are concerned, to "Let them Rip" and run the chances even against such formidable odds.

We have no apology to make to those who may have become offended in consequence of a discharge of duty to our brave soldiers, nor do we regret assuming the responsibility of publishing the card with the names of those gentlemen who promptly came forward to relieve the Randalsburg Riflemen. We are responsible for that publication for it was made public without the advice or consent, or even the knowledge of the parties whose names were subscribed thereto.

☞ We take the liberty to place before our readers the annexed note from the pen of one of the fair matrons of the sunny South, who appears to be a constant reader of the BULLETIN, and we hope that the very kind and truly patriotic sentiment expressed by our fair correspondent may influence many others to do what they can in the way of supplying rags for the manufacture of Paper, for without their assistance the Paper Mills must suspend and all publications cease.

We return our grateful thanks to Mrs. E. for the present, and take occasion to advertise our lady readers, again, that we are ready and anxious to purchase white cotton or linen rags to any amount.

We append the note referred to:

CEDAR GROVE, April 14, 1863.

Editors Bulletin:

Feeling a great interest in the continuance of your valuable paper, as well as of others in our Confederacy, it behooves us all to do whatever lies in our power to contribute to their support, and if every lady would send in her "mite" of rags, which are an actual drug in most families, the supply of paper could be thus easily continued and we still enjoy that greatest of all privileges, viz: hearing regularly and promptly of the cause so dear to the hearts of us all. If what I have sent can be of any service, you will please accept them.

Very respectfully,
E. C. B.

☞ We were politely shown a letter on yesterday from an officer on the Blackwater near Suffolk, Va., to a relative in this place. The writer is a clever gentleman and gallant soldier, and from his statements we entertain but little doubt there has been, or will be very early, hot work in that region. The statements in reference to the number of our forces, their dispositions, orders, &c., we deem it best not to disclose to the public, but that they mean battle, either in attack or defence, strike us as being beyond a question.

We are glad to notice that no fears are entertained for the result when the fight ensues. The commanding officers and all below them are game fighting men,—history records this, together with their names as heroes of many brilliant achievements, in our cause since the commencement of the war. There are interests in that section of the country of peculiar importance to our army and our people, and we heartily hope much may be accomplished redounding to our common weal. The letter bears date 10th of April.

☞ The Black Republicans lost in the recent gubernatorial election in Connecticut 6,000 votes,—although the election resulted in their favor by 3,000 over the Democratic candidate. Every State officer, both branches of the Legislature, and three out of four Congressmen, carried by large Republican majorities. The Democrats lose one Congressman.

In Indiana, the township elections, indicate large unconditional Union gains.—The municipal elections in Missouri and Ohio, of the 6th, show the same result, while at Detroit, Michigan, they were carried by 100 Democratic majority.

No Fears For Beauregard.

The Richmond Enquirer says: Those happy little incidents that usually come under the head of "mere mention," make up the sum of all that is pleasing to the popular heart. The cheering news from Charleston being told a soldier as he passed along the street on Thursday, his reply was: "No fears for Beauregard; God is always where he is!" The religious feeling which dictated this sentiment seems to have been most strikingly well founded.—In the harbor of Charleston the fame of Beauregard began, and on the battle field of Manassas blazed out with ten-fold brilliancy; and streaming midway over the continent to the bloody ground of the South west, expanded into a still broader glow of glory upon the crimson fields of Corinth. The last, perhaps, and still, perhaps, the brightest of the honors he has won, awaits him at the spot on which he plucked the first laurels of his fame.

[COMMUNICATED]

"Randalsburg Company."

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It was a matter of great surprise, and certainly, of deep regret, to witness the discussion in the Court House, to-day, in regard to the Company whose name heads this article. Some time since an article appeared in your paper, supposed to have been penned by a member of the Company, in regard to a claim presented against them by the State for commutation of clothing, amounting to something over fourteen hundred dollars. The Magistrates of the county, or a portion of them, met subsequently, and, in connection with other business, took this matter under consideration, and appointed J. H. Wilson, Esq., as an agent of the Court to draw the money from the Treasurer of the State, and hold it subject to the meeting to day. Owing to the fact that a member of the Senate, from this county, held the warrant, and not knowing anything of the object of the Court, did not appear with the warrant, therefore their Agent was unable to accomplish anything in regard to it. In the meantime, another article appeared, from a supposed member of the Company, whereupon a number of the citizens of Charlotte stepped forward, and assumed, conditionally, the amount, thereby releasing the Company from the debt, and the County from any odium that might rest upon it. This brought down the indignation of Jno. Walker, Esq., and B. W. Alexander, Esq.; and, upon the heads of poor innocents, they heaped coals of fire. Poor men! While their names were only "written upon paper," those of the Company who they were trying to assist were "written in blood upon every battle-field," and those of their traducers written ——.

If, Messrs. Editors, there is, in history, a parallel where gentlemen have been traduced for doing a simple act of justice to those who have, and are, periling their all in defence of our common country, it certainly has nor met the eye of your humble correspondent.

And now, what have these traducers done? Did they subscribe their money to pay the debt? O, No; they held aloof, and still stand aloof, so far as their own purses are concerned. A SPECTATOR.

The Crisis in Tennessee.

The Tullahoma correspondent of the Chattanooga Rebel, writing on the 8th inst. says:

I cannot but admire the secresy of our movements. There is undoubtedly a grand movement of the army on foot, in the Western department—such must be the fact, as the time has arrived for such a movement, and the condition of the enemy, baffled in all his plans at all points, seems to invite us forward. Under the masterly hand of Gen. Johnston, the last campaign of this war is gradually developing itself to the quiet observer of men and things, and the patriotic can plainly see into an immediate bright future.

It will not do to write too much about these things but prepare yourself for the crisis of the war, or rather for the final act in the tragedy in the West. Joe Hooker's miserable attacks upon Richmond will fade away to nothing, before the brilliant Kentucky and Missouri campaign which is opening with every sign of success.

THE CORNUBIA AND BEAUREGARD.—We get the following items from Bermuda through a late Canada paper:

The steamer Cornubia, with 314 bales of cotton, arrived at St. Georges on Sunday last. The Cornubia narrowly escaped capture when running for Wilmington. She was completely surrounded by Federal blockaders, but managed to escape and run into port. The steamer General Beauregard, in four days from Charleston, S. C., with 1060 bales of cotton; arrived at St. Georges on Monday evening last, with the Confederate flag flying, and as she passed in the harbor the steamers Merrimac and Cornubia, she was lustily cheered by the crews of those vessels. She left Charleston on Thursday night, and steamed directly through the blockading squadron, not, however, without having a number of shots fired at her, one of which struck her. It is said that the General Beauregard can steam seventeen miles per hour.

A GOOD SHOT.—The shot that was so fatal to the crew of the Chillicothe, in the attack upon Fort Pemberton, was, according to the statement of the New York Herald's correspondent, a singular one.—He says the men in the boat were just loading her port gun, the charger being engaged at the moment in cutting the fuse of the shell which had already been placed in the muzzle of the gun, when a sixty-four pound shell from the Confederates struck directly in her half open port, throwing shutters, one of which was thrown overboard, and lighting directly upon the muzzle of the gun, exploded simultaneously with the shell that was being put into the piece. The casualties by this double explosion were fourteen in all—three killed and eleven wounded.

PROMOTIONS.—Major Christopher C. Cole, of the 22d Regiment N. C. Troops, formerly editor of the Greensboro' Times, has been made Lieutenant Colonel, vice Robt. H. Gray, deceased. Captain Laban Odell has been made Major, vice Cole, promoted. Captain Caleb B. Hobson, of Sampson county, has been made Lieutenant Colonel of the 51st Regiment N. C. Troops, and Captain James R. McDonald, of Cumberland, has been made Major of the same regiment. Captain Joseph H. Hymen, of Edgecombe, has been made Lieutenant Colonel of the 13th Regiment N. C. Troops, vice Thomas Ruffin, Jr., resigned.—Raleigh Progress.

The London Money Market.

The following is from the London Herald (city article), March 18th:

Business at the Stock Exchange continues to exhibit varying phrases. Speculation is evidently rife in the several departments, and consequently the sudden daily changes in values. English securities were at one moment well supported, but later in the afternoon partial heaviness was again visible, the prices from Paris coming lower. It is asserted that the French Government have recognized the raising of the blockade of Charleston by the Confederates, which, it is believed, may lead to the arrangement of a peace. The advices, on the whole, were not considered favorable from the Continent, the progress of the revolution in Poland is creating uneasiness. Consols for money fluctuated between 92¾ and ⅞, and back to 92¾; for the account the bargains were at 92¾; the latest prices being 92¾ to ⅞, and 92¾ to 93. Towards the close of the day there was a general depression in railway shares.

SASSAFRAS BLOSSOM A SUBSTITUTE FOR GREEN OR BLACK TEA.—If the blossom of the sassafras (which will now soon be in full bloom) be gathered and dried in the shade, be used in making tea instead of the root, it will be found an excellent substitute for tea, which now sells at from 12 to 15 dollars a pound. By many who have tried it, it is pronounced to be a most delicious and palatable beverage. Why should not some of our country friends try it and send some to this place, as well as the large quantity of the root, which finds a ready sale at remunerating prices, it might be found to be a useful article in the Hospitals, as also in the army, and would consequently, command ready sale. It will cost but little time and labor to try it. —Examiner.

The New York Herald of the 8th of March, perpetrated the following:

We speak from a positive knowledge of the material facts when we say that, some two months ago, from rebel sources at Richmond, an overture was made, through an intermediate party in New York, to President Lincoln, for peace upon the basis of a return to the Congress of the Union of the representatives due from the rebellious State and a general amnesty, and that President Lincoln's answer to this overture was that the time had not yet arrived for the consideration of any such propositions.

SOME fellow writing from Denmark proposes himself as Dictator of the Yankees. "The people," says he, "has but one prudent step, this is, to institute a Dictator—a Patriarchal Dictatorship; in short, a philosopher to reorganize the Union, such as science and statistics prescribe." If this be a hit at Lincoln, it is odd that it appears in Raymond's Times.

McClellan's report of his operations, after leaving Harrison's Landing, is, of course, a fulsome eulogy of himself. He says 200,000 men were engaged at Sharpsburg, when he had 160,000. But we were superior in numbers, he contends—elated, too, with victory; but, in spite of that, he drove us off with a loss of 13 guns, 39 colors, more than 15,000 stand of small arms, and more than 6,000 prisoners.

OBITUARY.

Died, in Richmond, at the Chimborazo Hospital, on the 29th of March inst., Sergeant T. D. WOLF, of Co. K., 30th Regiment N. C. V., in the 22d year of his age.

This noble and lamented youth had braved many a hard fought field, from the earliest period of the war up to the present, and suddenly fell a victim to disease in the cheerless hospital. His brave arm is stilled, and his noble heart throbs no more, which sad event leaves us one the less to strike for our perilled country. To his devoted comrades in arms, he has left to them a praiseworthy example, and to his mourning friends, enviable traces of virtuous and noble bearing, which inspired him in his dying hours to look death, without terror, in the face, and to commend his distant friends "to meet him in heaven,"

Where anchored safe, his weary soul
To find eternal rest;
There, no storms shall beat, nor billows roil,
Across his peaceful breast.
